Overview

PSD Preview automatically creates thumbnails of PSD images attached to JIRA issues. These thumbnails are displayed in either a custom attachments panel (PSD Preview hides JIRA's attachments panel and replaces it with an identical panel that also displays PSD thumbnails) or a separate panel dedicated to PSD thumbnails.

Configuration

PSD Preview has two operating modes:

1. Attachments Panel Replacement
 1. This is the default operating mode, in which JIRA's attachment panel is replaced with an identical panel that also displays PSD thumbnails.
2. Separate Panel
 1. In this mode, a separate panel is added to display PSD thumbnails alongside the standard JIRA attachments panel.

The PSD Preview operating mode can be specified in configuration, accessible via JIRA's UPM.
