Installation Failure Due to Broken Download

This article applies to: all applications

Problem

Installation consistently fails with a message indicating a problem with the installed files. Error messages may vary: "archive corrupt", "not a valid application", "cannot find java", "cannot install".

This problem can be caused by a corrupt download. Corrupt download may happen if server terminates connection unexpectedly during the download, and your browser or download manager leaves the partially downloaded file on disk.

If you try to download a file several times and every time you get an incorrect file on your hard drive, please try a different browser. We had specific reports that downloading with Firefox resulted in a broken download each time, and download with Internet Explorer succeeded.

Checking downloaded file integrity

Use the following table with the latest versions of our product to check download for integrity.

First of all, check exact file size. On Windows, right-click on a file and select Properties.... On Linux and Mac OS X you can use ls -l in a terminal.

If size is correct, check MD5 checksum. On Linux and Mac OS X, use md5sum command in a terminal. On Windows, you can use Powershell — a standard Windows tool (see example script below) — or any freely available application for calculating MD5 sum (MD5SUMS from SysDesign, Google Search for MD5 on Windows).

If size and checksum are correct and application does not install, please write to support.

Windows Powershell script to calculate MD5 sum

Open Powershell (on Vista/7 press Start and type `powershell`; on XP, use Start | Run and type `powershell` there) and run there the following script. To paste the script to the console, copy the script to the Clipboard and then right-click in the console window. Don't forget to change location of the downloaded file accordingly.

$stream = new-object io.filestream "X:\downloads\jiraclient-2_3_6.exe",Open; try { -join ([security.
cryptography.MD5]::Create().ComputeHash($stream) |% {$_.ToString("x2")}) } finally { if($stream) { $stream.
close() } }
