

Using Structure Gadget in Confluence

You can embed Structure Gadget in a Confluence page and view or edit structure in Confluence.

 Before you can use Structure Gadget on a Confluence page, your Confluence administrator must add Structure Gadget to Confluence Configuration. If you try to insert a macro and don't see Structure in the list, most likely the gadget is not configured.

 The displayed Structure gadget is not suitable for printing. Support for printable Structure gadget is coming next. So far, please use Printable Page to print a structure separately.

How to Add Structure Gadget

1. When editing a page, click Insert/Edit Macro, and select Structure. Macro configuration dialog appears.

The screenshot shows the 'Insert Structure Macro' dialog box. It has a 'Preview' section on the left and configuration options on the right. Red arrows and numbers point to specific elements: 1 points to the 'Login & approve' button in the preview; 2 points to the 'Save' button at the bottom; 3 points to the 'Insert' button at the bottom right. The configuration options include 'Structure' (a dropdown), 'View' (a dropdown), 'Filter' (set to 'No Filter selected'), 'Visible Rows' (set to 10), 'Allow changing the structure' (checked), 'Width' (set to 100%), 'Border' (checked), and 'author' (set to 'ALM Works').

2. If Login & approve button is shown, you need to log in into JIRA first.
3. If Structure plugin not available message appears, then you currently don't have any visible structures. Probably you need to login.
4. Configure gadget - select the structure to be displayed and configure other parameters, then click Save.
5. Configure gadget appearance, for example, set width to 100% and border to not selected.
6. Click Insert and you're done!

Galactic empires are a common trope used in science fiction and science fantasy, particularly in space opera. Many authors have either used a galaxy-spanning empire as background, or written about the growth or decline of such an empire. The capital of a galactic empire is frequently a core world or home world.

The best known to the general public today is probably the empire from Star Wars, which was formed in turn from the Galactic Republic.
