

Structure Menu

Once you install Structure, you will see a new item added to the top-level navigation bar (1).

If you haven't created any structures yet (or had structures shared with you), the menu will allow you to create a new structure (2) or view our Getting Started guide (3).

The screenshot displays the Jira Software interface. At the top, a dark blue navigation bar contains the Jira Software logo and several menu items: Dashboards, Projects, Issues, Boards, and Structure. The Structure menu is highlighted with a red circle containing the number 1. A dropdown menu is visible below the Structure menu, listing four options: Query, Create Structure, Manage Structures, and Get Started. The 'Create Structure' and 'Get Started' options are each marked with a red circle containing the numbers 2 and 3, respectively. The main content area is titled 'System Dashboard' and features an 'Introduction' section with a blue header. Below the header is an illustration of two people looking at a large screen displaying a Jira dashboard. To the right of the illustration, the text reads: 'Welcome to Jira', 'Not sure where to start? Check out the Jira 101 guide and Atlassian training course.', and 'You can customize this text in the Administration section.'

Haven't read our Getting Started guide? It's the best way to get up to speed fast and take full advantage of the powerful functionality Structure has to offer.

Once you create your first structures (or are given access to existing structures), the Structure menu will also provide quick access to your favorite and recent structures:

The menu has several sections:

- Recent Structures. Shows structures that you've visited recently, or those which have been recently updated. Click a structure's name to open it.
- Favorite Structures. Lists structures you have marked as your favorite. This section will be hidden if you don't have any favorite structures.
- Default Structure. Shows the system-wide Default Structure. If a separate default structure is defined for the current project, it will be listed here as well.
- Manage Structures. Takes you to the Manage Structures screen, where you can view all of the structures you have access to, search for structures, set your favorite structures, and edit the configurations for existing structures (if you have the appropriate permission).
