

Who Has Access to the Structure

Structure is visible only to specific users. Those users who do not have access to the Structure, will not see Structure menu and other user interface elements, provided by the Structure plugin.

A user has access to Structure if all of the following conditions are met:

- The user has Browse permission on at least one of the projects that are enabled for Structure.

Users who have JIRA Administrators global permission always have access to Structure.
